N. B. We presume not to assert, that the above list is perfectly exact: But, we flatter ourselves, that it shall be found the most exact which has hitherto been offered to the Public. It is indeed extremely difficult to give a List of Scots Baronets with perfect accuracy. The neglect of the original Patentees, to record their Patents, occasions this difficulty. It were highly proper, therefore, in gentlemen possessed of such unrecorded Patents, to put them on record still. This might not only be useful to the representatives of their families at some distant period, but would likewise remove at once all uncertainty with respect to their honours; an uncertainty which is very awkward and very unpleasant.
